Jim Monaco, Jr. Joins ABR Sales Force

Jim Monaco, Jr.

Jim Monaco, Jr. has accepted a new challenge with ABR Wholesalers -- that of outside salesman.

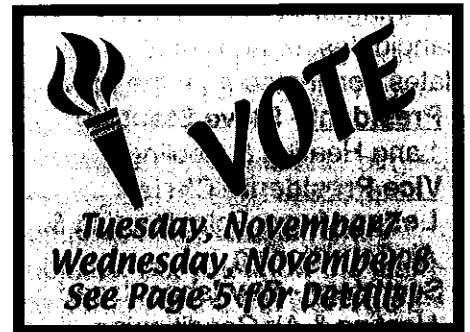

As a member of the family that owns ABR, Jim has held many positions over the past quarter century, but this is his first stint in sales. Previously, he has been a sheetmetal fabricator and spent seven years running the warehouse.

In his new position, Jim is concentrating on sales to colleges and universities, public school districts, municipalities and property management companies.

Before joining the family business 25 years ago, Jim attended Ithaca College. He lives in Brighton with his wife, Eileen, and their two children. At home he enjoys vegetable gardening, reading and sharing in his kids' activities.

Jim indicated that he is planning to get more involved in the industry associations that ABR supports, beginning with ACCA. We look forward to seeing Jim, Jr. at meetings and events.
